Event Description: Participants purchase a numbered ticket (1-300) for $50.00 each. A corresponding barrel of numbered balls is established. Balls are drawn out of the barrel one-by-one until only 10 balls remain. The last ball drawn wins $2500, the next-to-last wins $1000, and the third from the last ball wins $500. The other 7 balls each win $250. Total cash is $5750 ($2500+$1000+$500+$1750+($250X7)) plus revenue of $15,000 (300 balls @ $50/ea).

A "Master of Ceremonies" oversees the reverse draw with a disinterested individual responsible for drawing the numbered balls from the barrel. Door prizes are awarded throughout the event. All balls, after being drawn from the barrel, are placed on a numbered grid corresponding to that number to insure all balls are accounted for.

Winners of the cash prizes do not have to be present to win.

Winners of door prizes must be in attendance to win. Social Security numbers, names and addresses of the top 3 cash prizes area collected upon distribution of the prize money. A 1099 Misc. is issued to each of these 3 winners.
