Event Description: Participants purchase a numbered ticket (1-300) for $50/each. A corresponding barrel of numbered balls is established. Balls are drawn out of the barrel one by one until only 10 balls remain. The last ball drawn wins $2500, the next to last ball drawn wins $1000, and the third from last ball wins $500. The other 7 balls each win $250. Total cash prizes is $5750 versus revenue of $15,000. A "Master of Ceremonies" oversees the reverse draw with a disinterested individual responsible for drawing the numbered balls from the barrel. All balls, after drawing from the barrel, are placed on a numbered grid corresponding to that number to insure all 300 balls are accounted for. Winners of the cash prizes do not have to be present to win. Social security numbers, names and addresses of the top 3 cash prizes are collected upon distribution of the prize money. A 1099 Misc is issued to each of these 3 winners.
