Event Description: All tickets sold will be placed in a big round hopper on the day of the drawing and mixed thoroughly. This will be televised to the viewers of the TV special which will air on the day of the giveaway. Winners for all ancillary prizes will be drawn by St. Jude patient or the TV anchor person. The prize will be announced prior to the winner of that contest being drawn and announced. The winner information from these tickets will be recorded by an ALSAC staff person for winner notification and then all of the ancillary winner tickets will be returned to the hopper again. The tickets will be mixed thoroughly and shown on TV. Everyone that buys a ticket will be in the drawing for the grand prize even if they win an ancillary prize in the drawing earlier in the telecast.

Following the drawing, all of the prize winners will be notified via certified letter, returned receipt required, letting them know the prize they have won and the steps they need to take to claim that prize.
