Event Description: All tickets are sold by board and staff members. Tickets stubs are returned to the office before the games. As the tickets are sold, an excel document is created matching tickets buyers to their ticket numbers on the game board and tickets. All ticket stubs and ping pong balls correspond with a number on game board. Before the game, a mix of board and staff members lead our ping pong ball machine with ping pong balls numbered 1-199, #200 ball will not be added until it is auctioned off and the then put in the machine with the remaining balls. During the game, the board and staff members will: 1. one person turns the ping pong ball machine to mix the balls, 2. One person draws one ball from the machine and hands to the emcee. 3. The emcee reads the number on the ball that is drawn. 4. Two people are on stage to take the numbers that are drawn off the game board. 5. The emcee hands the ball to another person off stage who places the ball in a bucket of drawn numbers/balls. An accountant (usually Kelvin Bishop) is always present to assure our process is accurate and fair. Winners do not have to be present to win.
