Event Description: Participants purchase a numbered ticket (1-300) for $50 each. A corresponding barrel of numbered balls is established. Balls are drawn out of the barrel one-by-one until only 10 balls remain. The last ball drawn wins $2500; the next-to-last ball wins $1000; and the third from the last ball wins $500. The other 7 balls win $250. The total cash prize is $5,750. A "Master of Ceremonies" oversees the reverse draw with a disinterested individual responsible for drawing the numbered balls from the barrel. All balls, after drawing from the barrel, are placed on a numbered grid corresponding to that numbered to insure all 300 balls. Winners of the cash prizes do not have to be present to win. Social Security numbers, names and addresses of the top 3 cash prizes are collected upon distribution of the prize money. A 1099 Misc. is issued to each of 3 winners.
