Event Description: We will sell 200 tickets to the general public for $100 each with unique number form (1-200). The grand prize for the event is $10,000. 200 uniquely numbered ping pong balls (1-200) are placed into a clear tumbler. Cards numbered 1-200 are placed on the wall at the front of the event venue and are visible to all attendees. A Post office/board member draws the balls from the tumbler one by one and announces each number drawn. As each numbered ball is drawn from the tumbler, the card with the corresponding number is removed from the wall. The premise of the event is that the person with the ticket bearing the number of the last ball which has not been drawn from the tumbler wins the grand prize. The 50th, 100th and 150th numbers drawn win a door prize and are not eligible for the grand prize. Once ten balls remain in the tumbler the ticket holders are given the option to split the grand prize evenly but must agree unanimously. The tickets will be drawn one at a time until everyone agrees or there is only one ticket left which will be the grand prize winner.

The owner of a ticket is not required to be present at the event to win, but the ticket itself must be present. If a number is drawn and the ticket is not present, then that ticket will be disqualified from the event. For the door prize, another number will be drawn and for the grand prize the preceding number will be declared the winner.
